

REPLIES TO CORRESPONDENTS.

J. W. Tulloch.—The best place, certainly, for you to learn Massage is at the National Hospital, in Queen Square. We advise you to write, enclosing stamped and addressed envelope, to Miss East, the Lady Superintendent, who will, we feel sure, most courteously afford you every assistance and information.

Inquirer.—To learn and carry out Massage requires some strength of body, as well as strength of will. We advise you to consult Miss East, as above.

Miss Selina West.—Certainly not. Get a Trained Nurse from one of the well-known Nursing Institutions. The Home you mention has a most unenviable reputation, and cannot be recommended in any case. We are not surprised at your dissatisfaction with the ignorance of your late attendant. The Hospital you mention is becoming notorious for sending out even first year's Probationers, on the pretence that they are fully-trained, to nurse the outside public.

Miss Tyson.—Your suggestion is a very good one, and we will consider how it could best be carried out,
