"A REVIEW OF HEALTH," By Gustav Jaeger, M.D., Stuttgart. Professor of Zoology and Physiology. Translated and edited by Lewis R. S. Tomalin. Abridged and revised edition; 42 and 43, Fore Street, E.C. We have on previous occasions reviewed various editions of this book, and must say that we entirely agree with the principles embodied in it. The present edition is made lighter by being abridged and revised, and yet at the same time the abridging and revising have not interfered with the general utility of the book. Mr. Tomalin is to be congratulated upon his translating and editing, as they are both well done.
