

a less-refined state, which enables them to retail it in price for considerably less. Still further, we would mention their Sanitary Powder, which is put up in tins with perforated lids, through which the powder can so easily be sprinkled where it is required without damaging carpets, &c., in the least. These compounds have undoubtedly been received with such universal favour on account of their efficacious and non-poisonous ingredients.

EASY AND ECONOMICAL COOKERY. By M. L. Fardell (Messrs. J. S. Virtue and Co., Limited, 26, Ivy Lane, E.C.). One shilling.—This little book is intended to meet the wants of young and inexperienced housekeepers and people of small means.

NEW HOLIDAYS IN ESSEX. Edited by Percy Lindley (30, Fleet Street, E.C.). Sixpence.—There are many Londoners who know their Scotland, Wales, and even the Continent fairly well, to whom this charming county is practically a terra incognita. Mr. Lindley has already done much in a previous volume to enlighten those in search of a place in which to spend a few days or even a few hours without having to go far afield, and in the present volume he reveals still more of the beauties of Essex. The illustrations are many, but good.

PRACTICAL DINNERS. By "The G. C." (Office of The Queen, 346, Strand, W.C.) Second Edition.—Will interest those of ampler resources. The arrangement of the dinners according to the months of the year is a novelty to us, and a useful idea.

OBSTETRIC HINTS.—By Dr. R. J. Maitland Coffin, Messrs. Raithby Laurence and Co., Limited, 1, Imperial Buildings, Ludgate Circus, E.C. Price one shilling.—This capital little book, now (we are pleased to see) in its second edition, has been re-written and several chapters added to it. There can be no possible question as to Dr. Coffin's qualifications to put in terse language, and into a small compass, a very large number of very useful "hints," which all Nurses, Students, aye, and even mature Practitioners can profitably peruse. In eighteen chapters and eighty pages the author manages to give a vast amount of direct and absolute "help" for those—the above-
