EXTRACT FROM PRIVATE LETTER.

"Really I consider that, humanly speaking, 'Benger's Food' entirely saved baby's life. I had tried four other well-known Foods, but in this horrible climate he could digest nothing, until we began the 'Benger.' He is now rosy, and fattening rapidly."

The British Medical Journal says:—"Benger's Food has, by its excellence, established a reputation of its own."

The London Medical Record says :- "It is retained when all other Foods are rejected."

TMalt Extract in affections of the throat and chest, also in indigestion and nursing. Loeflund's Pure Hordeum Malt Extract is the most perfect, and the richest in diastase. Sold by Chemists; or, for particulars and samples apply—Loeflund, 14, St. Mary Axe, London, E.C.

Editorial.

THE WORCESTER INFIRMARY,-II.

E discussed, last week, the professional points of the curious County Court action, the full report of which we, at the same time, reprinted from the Birmingham Daily Gazette. We must now refer to the personal aspects of the case—not because the proceedings or the language of Miss MAY JANE MCLELLAND are in themselves worthy of such notce as we propose to devote to them, but because they point a moral, if they do not adorn a tale which we have never hesitated to point, and have oftentimes narrated.

It has appeared to many that, when it was insisted upon in the pages of this journal, that Nurses were women and should be treated by their employers, whether in Hospitals or elsewhere, as human beings, it was the acme of absurdity to state such a self-evident fact. There have not, indeed, been wanting those amongst our readers, and even amongst our most valued contributors, who have strongly dissented from the policy of this journal, in emphasising our objections to the treatment to which Nurses are subjected in some Hospitals. This has not been the least painful part of Early Weaning.—For infants deprived of their natural food Loeflund's Kindermilch is the most perfect diet; being, in physiological action and composition, a perfect substitute. Sold by Chemists, or apply—Loeflund, 14, St Mary Axe, E.C.
