

The lid of the box is closed, and cannot be opened until the supply of paper is exhausted. The paper contains the antiseptic properties of the well-known "Jeyes' Fluid," with which it is impregnated. The boxes are supplied, filled, in cardboard at 6d., and in walnut wood, handsomely polished and finished at 3s. 6d. each; and refills, can be obtained at sixpence per packet.

PERFUMES AND THE TOILET.

Ever ready to draw our readers' attention to articles which we think they will find advantageous for daily use, we would mention how pleased we have been with the preparations brought to our notice some time since by the Royal Perfumery Company, 27, Old Bond Street, W. And time, in this as in other instances, has given space for a long and practical test of the many toilet requisites we would chiefly allude to. Though it naturally costs more to buy a good than a bad soap, we never consider it expensive to buy the former for the toilet, as an immense amount of harm is caused to delicate skins by the use of inferior soaps. To this end, we recommend the "Edelweiss" and "Velveen" as being thoroughly well-prepared soaps, which, without an excess of alkali, contain the finest saponaceous material, in which a delicate natural perfume has been incorporated. And now that the weather is so trying to the skin, those who freckle quickly or suffer through the sea-air, hot sun, or hard water, will find this firm's liquid preparation, "Glycerine and Milk of Cucumber," very useful. In perfumes, we must give precedence to the "Edelweiss," which possesses an aroma quite its own, and has, we consider, a great future before it. In the sick-room, their "Toilet Vinegar" or "Eau de Cologne" will be found exceedingly useful as a disinfectant or deodorizer, if either bottle is placed, uncorked, in a basin of hot water; being of a highly spirituous nature, the "Cologne" will quickly evaporate, and leave the apartment refreshingly sweet. Nor must we forget this firm's "Lavender Smelling Salts," and "Violet and Millefleur" nursery powder, both of which are very valuable for their varied uses. The well-known firm of Messrs. Napoleon Price & Co. are also represented by the Royal Perfumery Co., who have on sale at their depôt, 27, Old Bond Street, many of the goods which have made Messrs. Price & Co. so popular for the last 123 years. We speak now of the ever-favoured "Real Old Brown Windsor," and their more recent production, "Glycerine and Cucumber" soaps, both of which lather freely, and give to the skin that elasticity and healthy tone, so enjoyable to see and feel. Irrespective of their great variety in perfumes, they have added two delicately mellow scented essences, the "Gloriola" and "Spinarosa," which, should compensate the proprietors, for the anxiety they must have experienced, in bringing them to such perfection.
