

will at the present day generally find themselves called upon to take charge of patients upon whom the latter operation has been performed, yet in the future it is probable that the former class of operation will be the most frequently performed.

London Reform Sunday.

In answer to an appeal of the Executive Committee of the London Reform Union, the subject of "Citizenship" was last Sunday treated in between 200 and 300 churches, chapels, and halls of the Metropolis. No subscriptions were asked in aid of the Union; the one idea was to impress upon the people of London a deep sense of their civic responsibilities. At St. Paul's Cathedral, Canon Browne referred specially to the poor and needy; Prebendary Eyton, at Holy Trinity, Sloane Square, to the necessity for the more active service of the "religious"; Professor Shuttleworth, at St. Nicholas Cole Abbey, to the "City of God"; Mrs. Ormiston Chant preached twice, and referred, in the course of her remarks, to Public Amusements.

"For the Union of all who love, in the service of all who suffer"—that was the key-note and object of Mr. STEAD's monster Meetings in the Queen's Hall, Langham Place, last Sunday. Representatives of every class in Society were there—politicians, County Councillors, editors, theatre managers, actors, clergymen, journalists, labour leaders, music hall artistes; women engaged in work, whether Poor Law administration, as art students or as Nurses. At the afternoon Meeting, Mr. BRANCH took the chair—a duty which he said gave him far more pleasure than when nine years ago he acted as foreman of the jury at Mr. STEAD's trial. Mr. STEAD then started up; and with intense earnestness, though somewhat dramatically, he began: "Sons of God, Daughters of God, brothers and sisters of Jesus Christ, let us pray. He then went on to discuss—What Christ would have us do at the coming Elections. In the afternoon he confined himself specially to the School Board Elections. In the evening he dealt with Women's responsibilities at the elections. "Whether Secularists or Anti-Secularists," said he in the afternoon, "they could all agree on one point—that the interests of the children should be taken care of; that they should not be starved either physically or intellectually." Mrs. ORMISTON CHANT sat on Mr. STEAD's right hand, and when she was called upon to say a few words, the cheers, again and again renewed, were deafening, a large number standing up and waving pocket handkerchiefs or umbrellas, and when she referred to their late victory, and to the splendid municipal government of the County Council, there was another outburst of applause.

Royal British Nurses' Association.

(Incorporated by Royal Charter.)

A MEETING of the Registration Board was held on Friday, October 24th, 1894, at 5 p.m., at which H.R.H. the President took the chair. One hundred applications for registration were considered, and the following eighty-eight Nurses were accepted, and their names duly enrolled in the Register:—

Name.	Trained at
Anna C. L. Anderson ...	St. Bartholomew's Hospital.
Frederica M. L. Anderson ...	"
Sarah Andrew ..	Leicester Infirmary.
Lucinda C. Archer ...	City of Dublin Nursing Institution.
Annie Armistead...	Bradford Infirmary.
Isabel Armitage ...	St. Bartholomew's Hospital.
(Sister St. Bart.'s Hosp.)
Amy D. Banbury...	Auckland Hospital, N.Z.
(Charge Nurse, Auckland Hosp.)
Edith D. Bauke ...	St. Bartholomew's Hospital.
Lucy A. Bird ...	Royal Hospital for Sick Children, Edinburgh, and Addenbrooke's Hospital, Cambridge.
Florence W. Boake ...	University College Hospital.
Alice E. Boldero ...	Middlesex Hospital.
Emma Bryan ...	St. Bartholomew's Hospital.
Emily A. Buckley ...	Canterbury Hospital.
Lilla Cardnell ...	St. Mary's Hospital.
Kate Cary...	Great Northern Central Hosp.
(Sister Great Northern Central Hosp.)
Sarah E. Collins ...	St. John's House.
Elizabeth Constable ...	St. Bartholomew's Hospital.
(Sister Great Northern Central Hosp.)
Ellen J. Cox ...	Birmingham Children's Hospital.
Jane Crosby ...	Middlesex Hospital.
Mary Ann Curson ...	"
Eliza Davies ...	St. Bartholomew's Hospital.
Elizabeth T. de Fraine ...	Salisbury Infirmary.
Emmeline Denby...	London Homoeopathic Hosp.
Emma Dobson ...	Norfolk and Norwich Hospital.
Bessie C. Drake ...	St. Mary's Hospital.
Jean Duncan ...	General Hospital, Birmingham, and St. George's Hospital.
Gertrude F. Eastwood ...	St. George's Hospital.
Georgina R. Edwards ..	Cumberland Infirmary and Children's Hospital, Pendlebury.
Annie M. Fox ...	St. Mary's Hospital.
(Sister St. Mary's Hospital.)
Martha Fulham ...	General Infirmary, Leeds.
Margaret A. Fuller ...	St. Bartholomew's Hospital.
Kate B. Harrison ...	Oldham Infirmary.
Gertrude E. Hare ...	St. Bartholomew's Hospital,
Margaret Haughton ...	City of Dublin Nursing Institution
(Matron Barrington's Hosp., Limerick.)
Elizabeth G. Hazells ...	The Cama Hospital, Bombay.
Alice M. F. Hepper ...	West London Hospital.
(Asst. Matron Parkwood Conv. Home.)
Emily A. Herbert ...	Middlesex Hospital.
Bertha Higginbottom ...	Norfolk and Norwich Hospital.
Catherine Hoare...	St. George's Hospital.
Miriam Hooper ...	St. Thomas's "
Ellen Howitt ...	St. Mary's "
(Sister St. Mary's Hospital.)
Maria Hughes ...	Royal Southern Hosp., Liverpool.
Alice Humphry ...	Great Northern Central Hospital.
(Sister Great Northern Central Hosp.)

previous page

next page