

tina Black, on the Abuses of the Truck Act, the Editor wisely draws attention to the fact, that "However perfect the law, its effectiveness must depend on the human beings who come under it." The Magazine, while heartily upholding all that makes for progress, is moderate in tone, and certainly deserves the support and encouragement of all women interested in women.

JAEGER'S HARNESS AND SADDLERY.

We have much pleasure in calling the attention of our medical readers especially to the valuable novelties in the way of horse-clothing, harness, and saddlery which are now being made by the Jaeger Woollen System Company. These are being shown, at present, at a Jaeger Stable Exhibition, which is well worthy of a visit, and which is being held at Knightsbridge, just opposite to Sloane Street, S.W.

REPLIES.

Miss Nancy Webb.—Have received 2/6 for Nurse Van der Ben, and forwarded to her through Office.

Nurse G. P. Hall.—We are very pleased to hear that you have found the Lectures so useful. We have received numerous letters to the same effect, and hope you will therefore recommend the NURSING RECORD to your colleagues, as it is our earnest wish to help all members of our profession.

Miss G. March.—We regret we are unable to answer questions privately, but shall always be glad to do so through the medium of the NURSING RECORD. Your best plan will be to write to the Matrons of the Lying-In Hospitals in London, or the Rotunda Hospital, in Dublin, and inquire when a vacancy will occur. You must, however, recognise the fact that London has already a full supply of Maternity Nurses at work, the competition being very keen.

THE NURSES' BAZAAR.

The Editor will be obliged if all those ladies who intend competing for Prizes will intimate the same to her on a post-card, as she is desirous of ascertaining the number of competitors. She will be obliged if her readers will bring the Prize Competition to the notice of their friends with leisure, and interest them in the forthcoming Bazaar.

The Editor begs to acknowledge, with thanks, the reception of the following articles from her readers for the Private Nurses' Stall, at the Royal British Nurses' Association Bazaar:—

The Link Shell Truss Co., 171, Wardour Street, London, W., have a new truss, it is claimed that by this method of manufacture a truss is provided which will be more comfortable than the one in ordinary use and better able to adapt itself to the various movements of the body, especially if these are of a sudden character. The truss is fitted with a hip-joint regulator by means of which the pressure is increased or diminished as required and with a soft hollow shell pad perforated for ventilation. The Truss as thus completed is an efficient one.—Lancet, August 4th, 1894.
