

affect the people generally; instead of being exclusive intolerant, and narrow-minded. As Mrs. Philipps says, there is a large force of brain and heart power in our profession. It only requires, I believe, to be stimulated. But we must have more time off duty in order to develop our political sensibilities.—Yours truly,

C. BIRCH.

NOTICE OF DEATH.

DENT—at 30, Devonshire Street, W., on November 27th, Edith Mary, M.R.B.N.A., age 27, daughter of George Thomas and Letitia Galliers Dent, of Nether Court, Stoke Lacey.

THE NURSES' BAZAAR.

The sincere thanks of the Editor are due to those firms who contributed so liberally to her Invalid Stall, and at which a substantial sum of money was realised. She begs, also, to convey her thanks to the Proprietor of the NURSING RECORD for a large number of special copies of the Journal, and copies of the Record Text Books, and Etchings of London Hospitals.

Hertz, Son & Co., Limited, for Anti Corset; Bovril Co., for Preparations and loan of Urn; Pocock Brothers, handsome Slippers for Nurses; Scott & Scott, case of "Cocoa"; Norwegian Milk Condensing Company, Tinned Milk; Dowie & Marshall, Nursing Shoes, Hygienic Shoes for Children, and Felt ditto; Christy Bread Knife Co., case of various Knives; Van Houten, case of Cocoa; Johannis, two cases of Johannis Water; Bailey & Sons, Nurse's Bag, Chatelaine, &c.; Florador Food, two cases; Dr. Jaeger, Limited, Corsets, Boots, &c.; Sunlight Soap, Tea sets with motto of the Association inscribed (which were especially admired and speedily purchased); Sanitas Co., Inhaler and preparations; Mr. Frederick Mason, large case of his valuable Specialities for Invalids; A. Ludovic, Sanitary Soap.

The Editor has also to thank Mappin Brothers, Regent Street, for loan of Lamps; and Mr. Maignen, for loan of "Filtre Rapide."

REPLIES.

P. Gautier.—It is published by Messrs. Griffin & Co., Exeter Street, Strand. We do not know the price, but the Manager at our Offices would doubtless obtain it and forward it to you if you desired him to do so.

Miss Farquharson, Melbourne.—We are in receipt of the two beautiful photographs, and admire the building exceedingly. It is easy to perceive that the architect was a Scotchman. We strongly approve of washing dresses for those in attendance on the sick, and should imagine it an absolute necessity in a hot climate.

Miss Emma Tylar, Teignmouth.—We are in receipt of your letter, and thank you for so kindly desiring that your prize of 10/- should be sent as a donation to the Royal British Nurses' Association. We have forwarded it to the Secretary.

Miss E. J. R. Landale, Edinburgh.—We shall be obliged for article concerning which you write. Article received will appear shortly.

Miss Henrietta Lawrence, Longton.—Many thanks for contribution to Bazaar; it arrived in good time.

Miss Ulla Hammarskold, Editor Fredrika Bremer, Forbunds, Stockholm.—Hope you will receive the RECORD weekly; we have put your name on our Exchange list. We are glad you find our Journal of so much interest.

Miss Huges, Tyrone Infirmary, Armagh.—We should advise you to communicate with Mr. Keith Young, 17, Southampton Street, London, W.C. Had returned plans before receiving telegram.

Lady Lumsden, Belhelvie Lodge, Aberdeen.—The flowers arrived very fresh, and were much admired. Very many thanks.
