

"Married couple, without encumbrances, wanted. The wife, who must be a trained nurse, to act as Nurse-Matron, and, with occasional assistance, to perform ordinary domestic duties, the husband to act as hospital porter."

Great strides are being made in the nursing departments of many colonial hospitals, and as a specimen of a nurses' home we think that attached to the Wellington Hospital, New Zealand, appears from the sketch which we print to compare very well with our nurses' homes in the United Kingdom. Nurses in Medical and Surgical Home, also nurses from the Institutions in the city. The Chairman commended the objects of the Fund.

We are informed that when the new Nurses' Home in connection with the above Institution is finished—it will be most complete, and contain Sisters' and Nurses' sitting-rooms, a visitors' room in which the nurses can see their friends, quarters for a Home Sister, and 36 bedrooms, so that each member of the nursing staff may enjoy the privacy of her own bedroom.

WELLINGTON HOSPITAL NURSES' HOME.

New Zealand have lost a most considerate and appreciative friend by the death of Mr. Seddon, the much lamented Premier of that happy colony.

At the Coventry and Warwickshire Hospital, Coventry, a meeting of nurses was recently held to hear an address from Mr. Louis Dick on the Royal National Pension Fund. Mr. Alfred Herbert, the Chairman, presided. There were also present Mrs. E. E. Crisp, Secretary; Miss Hoadley, Matron; Miss Davidson, Matron City Hospital; Miss Wing, Lady Superintendent Nursing Institution; Mrs. Simmons, The

Under the auspices of the Ulster Branch of the Irish Nurses' Association, Mr. R. G. G. Johnstone, F.R.C.S., gave a most interesting Lecture on Gynaecological Nursing in a classroom at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Belfast, on June 27th. The Lecture was very well attended and greatly appreciated—so much so indeed, that by special request Mr. Johnstone was good enough to repeat the Lecture on Tuesday last—so that many nurses unable to attend on the previous date might be present.

In moving a vote of thanks to office bearers at the annual meeting of the Society for Nurs-

previous page

next page