NURSE'S PRESENTIMENT.

The following story is told by The Daily Mail :-"While a maternity nurse, attending Mrs. Addison, Sub-Postmistress of Griffithstown, Monmouthshire, was walking home yesterday she had a presentiment that her patient and the child were in danger. Hurrying home, she prevailed upon her husband, a member of the local fire brigade to go to the post office, where he found the bedroom occupied by Mrs. Addison and her baby to be on fire.

"He removed the mother and child and extinguished the fire, which had originated in a wooden beam near the fireplace."

The National League of Physical Education and Improvement, 4, Tavistock Square, London, W.C., has produced a striking series of wall charts, price 2s. each, post free, which would be most useful to lecturers to mothers. Chart No. 5, "Why is it wrong to give your baby a 'comforter' or 'dummy'?" with four illustrations, is reproduced as a leaflet at 6d. a dozen, and should do useful service.

MATERNITY AND CHILD WELFARE WORK.

PRIZE ESSAY.

The Essay on Maternity and Child Welfare Work for which the Royal Sanitary Institute awarded a prize of £50 and a medial to Miss Isabel Macdonald, A.R.San.I., and Miss Kate Cropper Atherton, A.R.San.I., can now be obtained from the Offices of the Royal Sanitary Institute, 90, Buckingham Palace Road, S.W., price, one shilling net. It is matter for congratulation that this prize offered by the Institute, in open com-petition, for the best Thesis setting out a complete and practical scheme for Maternity and Child Welfare, suitable for adoption by Local Authorities, should have been won by a trained nurse in conjunction with a colleague.

Amongst the matters requiring attention, the writers include the securing of a clean milk supply, infant clinics and consultation centres in rural areas, the adoption of "mothercraft" as a compulsory subject in girls' schools. We cordially endorse this view, and consider the Thesis should be of much use to Local Authorities; although, for reasons mentioned in our editorial columns, we are averse to the notification of pregnancy which the Thesis appears to advocate.

THE LADY WILLINGDON MATERNITY HOME.

A branch of the Lady Willingdon Maternity " The Hospital has been opened at Colaba. "The hospital"—says the Nursing Journal of India stands in a garden compound facing the Bombay Harbour, a most delightful situation both for air and view. There are eight beds and the same number of cots. Off the ward is a labour room supplied with everything necessary. There is a very nice bathroom with a stove in it for heating water quickly. The linen cupboard is well stocked, as also the storeroom. The ward is surrounded by a broad verandah, and on it some comfortable chairs have been placed, presented by a kind friend for the use of the patients. There are at present two Indian nurses in charge, both Cama trained; they look very nurse like and capable; their white uniforms are simple and becoming. They take all normal cases ; any case likely to be abnormal is not admitted but sent on to the Cama Hospital. If a case is admitted and the nurses find they cannot manage it, they telephone for a doctor. The nurses' quarters are very com-fortable, and they are taking great pride in putting pretty things in them. The place is spot-lessly clean and very well ordered. Miss Thacker is to be congratulated on having trained at her hegital two Indian purpose who have at her hospital two Indian nurses who have responded so well to the training " Lady Willingdon, who has just been awarded the Decoration of the Imperial Order of the Crown of India by the King, is the wife of the Governor of the Presidency of Bombay.
