

Prince Thou Art Welcome Here

How rejoiced we are to be able to present to our readers all over the world these beautiful pictures of Prince Charles of Edinburgh. Surely never was a finer baby more promising of his great heritage, born into the inspiring home life of our much beloved Royal Family.

*"Prince thou art welcome here,
Where all my father loves is dear,
And full trust do I put in thee,
For that so great nobility
He knoweth in thee; be as kind
As I would be to thee, and find
A happy life from day to day,
Till all our days are past away."*

William Morris.
