

The Passing of a Dear Doggie Friend.

ON MONDAY, OCTOBER 6TH, 1952, a very gallant, canine gentleman, ripe in years and doggie wisdom, passed from this earth to those happy, hunting fields where we hope our faithful canine friends find eternal bliss.

PRINCE, A Universal Favourite.

Prince, a friend of the British College of Nurses, and a world traveller, bade me tell his friends in England and America, not to grieve for him, as he had enjoyed life to the full, but was weary and lame towards the end.

He was a wonderful dog, a faithful, loyal and affectionate friend, and he is greatly missed. When he finally left us, he was fifteen-and-a-half years old.

The Editor,

THE BRITISH JOURNAL OF NURSING.

DEAR MISS BRYSON,

My deeply grateful thanks go to you for your editorial about "Wide Neighborhoods" and about me. The book has been nowhere better reviewed to my way of thinking than in the JOURNAL OF NURSING, and, of course, we in the Frontier Nursing Service appreciate deeply the kind personal things you say about us.

Would it be asking too much of you to beg for two extra copies of the September JOURNAL? You could send them in the regular mail.

With my affectionate regards for you all, I am,

Yours very gratefully, MARY BRECKINRIDGE.

North Harrow,
Middlesex.

DEAR SECRETARY,

The article "Fruit and Honey," etc., is just what we want, and please could you let me have an extra copy of the BRITISH JOURNAL OF NURSING for my daughter Margaret? The Editorial is fine too, I love it.

Thanks, and kind regards. E. W.
