

Miss Helen Court, London.—We forwarded your letter to the Manager, and hope you will have no further trouble. Shall be glad to hear your opinion "In Council."

Mrs. Jarrett.—All business communications must be directed to the Manager, RECORD PRESS, 376, Strand, London, W.C. We forwarded your letter and postal order. Shall be glad to hear from you at any time concerning professional matters.

Miss Mary Cooke, Paramatta, New South Wales.—Very pleased to receive your letter, and hope you will become a regular correspondent to this journal; it is, at all times, interesting to hear of the well-being of old friends, and now that the Royal Charter has been won, Nurses should become one great united and international body.

Mother Superior, St. James' Servants of the Poor.—We are greatly interested in your good work, and hope to have a notice of its needs in an early issue.

Nurse Alice, London.—We will insert your letter next week. We feel sure that the injustice of the system, exposed in the "Nurse Pays," has only to be brought to the notice of the Committees who employ the system, to cause rapid reforms. We thoroughly agree with your argument.

Miss C. Jervis, Nottingham.—Read Miss Landale's letter in "Matrons in Council." You can never make a first-rate Nurse, unless you are hypersensitive about dirt. Inquire which schools qualify for Registration, and certainly do not enter a Hospital whose term will debar you from hereafter obtaining the privileges and benefits of Registration.

ARTIFICIAL EYES, LEGS, ARMS & HANDS.

GROSSMITH'S

PRIZE MEDAL ARTIFICIAL LEGS—with patent action Knee and Ankle Joints—enable the patient to walk, sit, or ride with ease and comfort, wherever amputated. They are lighter in weight, less expensive, and more durable than any self-acting Leg hitherto introduced, and are worn by Ladies and Children with perfect safety. They were awarded the highest medals at the London and Paris Great International Exhibitions, and pronounced by the Surgical Juries to be "excellent in manufacture, well constructed, and on a system superior to all others."

THE PRIZE MEDAL ARTIFICIAL EYES have now been brought to the greatest perfection, and are so easy of adaption that they are fitted in a few minutes, without pain or operation, in any case where sight has been lost. The colours are perfectly matched, and a movement obtained precisely in accordance with the action of the natural eye. They are the only Artificial Eyes which have been awarded Prize Medals at the Great International Exhibitions of London, Paris and Dublin.

Address to Mr. GROSSMITH, Manufactory, 175, Fleet Street, London.

ESTABLISHED 1870.
