

Miss C. Wickham, Birmingham.—The Editor is at present away from town, but on her return will doubtless give you the interview you wish for.

A considerable number of communications are unavoidably held over until next week.

THE NURSES' BAZAAR.

The Editor begs to acknowledge, with thanks, the reception of the following articles for the Private Nurses' Stall, at the Royal British Nurses' Association Bazaar:—
Per Miss Cartwright. 10s.

Miss Shrine ... 6 embroidered Sachets, 4 muslin Pinafores, 3 Pincushions, 1 embroidered Holland Pinafore, 2 pairs knitted Stockings, and 4 knitted children's Petticoats.

Miss Louisa Radcliffe. 2 knitted Opera Hoods.

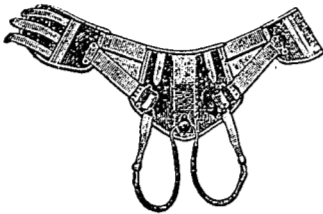

The Editor begs to draw the attention of the readers of the NURSING RECORD to the list of Prizes offered for dressed dolls and garments on page x. All articles sent in for competition will be sold for the benefit of the Royal British Nurses' Association, at the Nurses' Bazaar in December. The judges will consist of three experts in needlework, and competitors are advised to carry out carefully the precaution of inserting name and address in full, in a sealed envelope, to be securely pinned on to the article sent, which must be delivered, addressed to the Editor, 20, Upper Wimpole Street, before the 30th of November. Charming French composite jointed dolls can be obtained from the counter of Miss Dyes, at the Soho Bazaar, and beautiful wax dolls from The Dolls' Home, Mrs. Pecks, 131, Regent Street. At the latter shop 5 per cent. will be taken off to those purchasers who are competing for the prizes, and which are to be sold at the R.B.N.A. Bazaar. The Editor begs to inform correspondents that the competition is open to all her readers, and not confined to Nurses alone.
