Editorial.

THE ROYAL BRITISH NURSES' ASSOCIATION.

FROM the first number of this Journal, the Royal British Nurses' Association has received the cordial and steadfast support and assistance of THE NURSING RECORD. It has been felt, therefore, that this week affords a fitting opportunity for a special issue of this periodical, in order that the efforts made on behalf of the Association, to obtain increased funds for its important work, should receive all the assistance which it is in our power to bestow; because, in this connection, it is most desirable that the public should be better and more widely acquainted with the precise objects which the Association seeks to attain, inasmuch as with such a greater knowledge would inevitably come a greatly enhanced measure of popular support. Our ordinary Special Christmas Number has, therefore, by the kind permission of the Proprietor, been ante-dated, and appears to-day in a special cover, and an extra edition has also been printed, and will be sold for the benefit of the funds of the Association.

In any account of the Association, the first place must be given to its President,

H.R.H. PRINCESS CHRISTIAN,

who accepted that office while the Association was being formed, and has ever since accorded to it her steadfast, and, in every way, invaluable, assistance. It has not been by any means a merely titular headship which Her Royal Highness has held, because from the very first she has taken part in the actual hard work of organisation, and probably has
