

Miss DAISY ROBINS, 18, St. Stephen's Square, Bayswater. It is sincerely hoped that all those who are interested in the Home will do their very utmost to make the Entertainment widely known amongst their friends, and by thus assisting in the sale of the tickets, insure its financial success. The charming play which has been chosen is in itself sufficient to give us every reason to believe that the evening will be a thoroughly enjoyable one.

WE beg to inform our readers who appear to have been so much interested in our Invalid Stall in connection with the Private Nursing Stall at the R.B.N.A. Bazaar, that it was entirely furnished by friends of the NURSING RECORD, and that it was arranged and managed by Miss ETHEL KINNINMONT, assisted by Nurse BYERS, both of whom disposed of their wares in the most successful manner, thereby adding a goodly sum to the receipts.

A NIGHT-GOWN, simply and ingeniously fashioned and buttoned straight down on both sides, and otherwise arranged to admit of changing without moving or discomforting the patient, and which was designed by Nurse BYERS, was on view, and caused much interest among the Nurses present. We hope that the design may become widely known and used, for we feel sure it would be a great comfort to many sick persons.

THE NURSING RECORD Emergency Case was also on view and for sale, and should prove a popular possession for young housewives, being specially designed for use in private houses; indeed, Canon DUCKWORTH was heard to remark that he should make a point of presenting it in future as a wedding gift. The case is made of nicked tin, and is 15 inches long by 5 inches deep. The box contains: 1 lb. lint; 1 lb. absorbent cotton wool; 1 yard gutta percha tissue; 1 yard white jaconette; 1 tin sticking plaister, domestic and water bandages, 1 roll Mead's plaister; pincushion with surgical pins; yard measure; surgical scissors; dressing forceps; clinical thermometer; pulse glass; bath thermometer; glass spatula; spirit lamp; nest of test tubes; box litmus papers; matchbox case; medicine glass and minim glass. The case is made by Bailey & Son, of 38, Oxford Street. The Editor has three of these cases left from the Bazaar, and would be glad to sell them for the benefit of the Association, price £2 2s. each.

WE have to acknowledge from Miss NANCY WEBB, M.R.B.N.A., the tea sets of grey-ware with our motto "Steadfast and True" inscribed upon them, which were so greatly admired upon the Invalid Stall, and which were speedily bought up by members of the Association. We regret that owing to there being no card of sender in the box, we have been unable to acknowledge this charming and appropriate gift before.

THE Queen, Gentlewoman, Lady, and Ladies' Pictorial all had good accounts and sketches of our Bazaar in last week's issue, the latter paper making quite a speciality of the affair, and printing excellent portraits of all the principal stall-holders, a copy of which would be doubtless received with much pleasure by members abroad. We advise our readers to procure it if possible.

WE are requested to draw our readers' attention to the fact that the Nursing Directory for 1895 will shortly be issued, and as it contains much information concerning the various Nurse Training Schools and Nursing Societies, the Editors of the publication will be glad to be favoured with any information from the officials of the Training Schools, with regard to changes in the regulations and personnel, so that corrections may be made up to date. Only the names of Nurses registered by the Royal British Nurses' Association appear in the Nursing Directory, with the additions from year to year of such items of their professional progress which they may desire to be made.

The following is a specimen of the method found most useful as a book of reference concerning the Professional career of any Registered Nurse:—

*MOLLETT, WILHELMINA, J., Royal South Hants Infirmary, Southampton.—Registered Nurse, 1890; Cert. St. Bartholomew's Hosp. (Pro.), 1882-85; Children's Hosp., Shadwell (Sister), 1885; National Hosp., Queen-sq. (Superint. of Nursing), 1885-86; Chelsea Inf. (Matron), 1886-89; Nursing Home, Johannesburg (Matron), 1890; Gordon House Nursing Home (Sister in Charge), 1891; Royal South Hants Infirmary, Southampton (Matron), 1892-94. Memb. (Memb. Exec. Com. 1888-90 & Memb. Gen. Coun. 1888-90, 1891 & 1894) Roy. Brit. Nurses' Assoc.; Memb. Matrons' Council. Contrib. : Articles to Nursing Record, 1888, "An Unpopular Branch of our Profession"; Second Annual Report of Royal British Nurses' Association; "Probationers Past and Present," The Nurses' Journal, May, 1894.

WE are informed that "Miss C. G. WOOD has retired from the Committee of the Workhouse Nursing Association in consequence of pressure of work."

THE following short report of the work of this excellent Society, of which Princess CHRISTIAN is patroness, will be of interest to our readers, and increased funds are urgently requested, for the extension of the work, by the Hon. Sec., Miss WILSON, 13, Barliston Mansions, S.W. :—
