REPLIES TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Miss Alice Yates, Antingham.—So sorry we did not receive your permission for signature in time; we always prefer to use signature when possible. In contributing valuable suggestions, our contributors are often too modest and prefer to be anonymous.

Sister Constance, Malvern Links.—We shall be glad to insert a notice if you will send exact particulars of the special advantages of your invention. You might with advantage exhibit it at the forthcoming Nursing Exhibition, to be held at the Trained Nurses' Club, 12, Buckingham Street, Strand, in November.

Miss Susan E. Antrobus, London.—We have spoken with several Nurses, whom we have advised to write to you concerning the suggested new Nursing Home. A great need appears for hanging space, which could be rented during the absence of the Nurses from the home, thus avoiding the constant turning out of drawers and "living in boxes." More bath-rooms than are usually supplied is also another need, and a higher standard of cleanliness and home comfort. Of course these things must be paid for, and it is a little difficult for those not responsible for the very large expenses of living in the West End of London to estimate how expensive comfort and cleanliness are. Co-operation on a sufficiently wide scale could alone make it possible at the price Nurses can afford to pay.

Mrs. Byres, St. Bartholomew's Hospital.—We would draw your attention to the forthcoming Nursing Exhibition, see page 146, so that you might submit a pattern of your special night-gown shown last year at the Royal British Nurses' Association Bazaar.

Miss Schooling, Fever Hospital.—The address you wanted is Mrs. Byres, Nurses' Home, St. Bartholomew's Hospital, E.C., who designed the garment.

Miss M. Moorhead, Shanklin.—We regret that we have not space to deal with the question of Home Hospital Management in full this week, but will do so in our next issue.

Miss G. Smith, Bath.—Address Secretary, Royal British Nurses' Association, 17, Old Cavendish Street, London, W. No arrangements can be made concerning joining the Registered Nurses' Society until you are a member of the Royal British Nurses' Association. Only washing dresses are permissible in the sick room.
