THE PRINCE OF WALES' HOSPITAL FUND.

THE scheme which the Prince of Wales has suggested for the maintenance of the Metropolitan hospitals will doubtless not only receive most careful consideration from all who are connected with these great Institutions, but will also obtain that support from the public which is almost invariably accorded to any scheme recommended by His Royal Highness. The matter is so important to the Nursing profession that it demands their earnest attention, and we need hardly say that in considering it we take the standpoint which would probably be most in accord with the wishes of His Royal Highness; and that we will impartially discuss the present and prospective results of the scheme to Metropolitan Hospitals.

It is possible that we may, however, differ considerably from the opinions expressed by our contemporaries concerning these results;
