Appointments.

MISS E. M. ROBERTS has been appointed Lady Superintendent of Nurses of the Monsall Fever Hospital, which is under the management of the Corporation of Manchester. Miss Roberts was trained at the Nightingale Home at St. Thomas's Hospital, and has held the responsible positions of theatre sister and sister of medical and surgical wards at St. Thomas's Hospital.

Miss S. A. Warburton has been appointed superintendent of nurses to the North Staffordshire Infirmary and Eye Hospital, Hartshill, Stoke-upon-Trent. Miss Warburton was trained at the London Hospital, and has held the positions of charge nurse and night superintendent to the City of Dublin Hospital, lady superintendent to the Dublin Orthopædic Hospital, Matron to Her Majesty's Hospital, Stepney, and last, but not least, Matron to the City of London Infirmary, Bow Road, E. All her colleagues will heartily congratulate Miss Warburton upon her departure from the City of London Infirmary, where the difficulties of maintaining discipline, and in consequence nursing the sick efficiently, have been rendered almost impossible. We wish her happiness in her new sphere of work.

By the kind permission of Sir Henry Irving a matinée was given at the Lyceum Theatre on the 29th inst. in aid of Queen Victoria's Jubilee Institute for Nurses. It is understood that the receipts of this brilliant entertainment amounted to £750, which is very good news.

THE Duchess of Sutherland has recently been travelling in the remote districts of Sutherland, and working hard in the interests of the Sutherland Nursing Association. During her tour her Grace has delivered several lectures, and has made a most successful house-to-house visitation. There is at present much ignorance, and consequently much prejudice, on the subject of the aims and scope of the Nursing Association, and the Duchess both on account of her position and her personal popularity was eminently fitted to undertake this campaign.

THE Ophthalmia Committee of the Central London School District have reported that the arrangement which had been made for the training of the Roman Catholic nurses had worked very satisfactorily. They recommended that a charge of three guineas should be made for the maintenance of the nurses during the three weeks they resided at the school.

FRICION still exists amongst the officials of the City of London Union and will continue as long as the clerk is permitted to write insulting letters to the matron. The matron has lately reported that the advertisement for nurses had been altered without any communication having been made to her—a circumstance liable to place her in a false position with applicants.

We quote the following description of an Infirmary Board Meeting from London, headed "City Guardians' Manners":—

"A pretty quarrel has arisen between the Clerk to the City Union and the Matron of the Infirmary, and the outcome was some stormy scenes in the Board Room on Tuesday. It appears that the Matron made two applications to the Clerk for the return of her original testimonials, but her letters were totally
