

own room pretty and attractive is almost sure to be so herself, and anyone who knows much of nursing the sick will remember how patients love to have something bright and pretty to look at. I do not believe for one moment that any Nurse worthy the name would allow the comfort of her own room to keep her from her duty, however unpleasant that might be, and I think if "A Parish Priest" is ever cared for by a Nurse who banishes all pretty things from the sick room, he will not speak as he does now, and give us more unkind things to endure than we have at present. I remember reading that "Endurance is indisputably the highest form of bravery," and we often have to find it so—I am, Sir, yours truly,
S. D. H.

REPLIES TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Mother.—We should advise you to take The Baby, an excellent magazine, which deals with children, their needs and care.

Sister Lucy.—Note Miss Catherine Wood's letter published in our last number. Write, or call upon her.

Miss Jenkins.—We know of no course of lectures such as you inquire. Try the Forsyth Technical College, 19, Queensbury Place, South Kensington.

Student.—I believe there are half a dozen more meetings to be held in support of the same object. Apply to Secretary, 8, Oxford Circus Avenue.

Sister.—Get "A Manual of Practical Hygiene," by Edmund A. Parkes, M.D., F.R.S., or "A Handbook of Hygiene and Sanitary Science," by George Wilson, M.A., M.D., F.R.S.E.

Probationer G.—Try a sea-side Hospital. The session is now at an end, but Nurses who are not members have been admitted upon inscribing their names in the visitors' book, and by payment of a shilling. We hope to reproduce the series in pamphlet form, which we believe will be exceedingly useful to Nurses of all classes.
