Van Houten's PURE SOLUBLE The Lancet says:—

"VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA yields a maximum "proportion of the valuable food constituents of "the bean...easy of assimilation and digestion."

Cocoa

THE

Aursing

ÉVERY SATURDAY

AND

ulu

"QUI NON

one penny. The Mospital World.

EDITED BY MRS. BEDFORD FENWICK.

PROFICIT DEFICIT."

No. 587.

SATURDAY, JULY 1, 1899.

VOL XXIII.

LECTURES TO NURSES

ОИ

ANTISEPTICS IN SURGERY.

вч

STANMORE BISHOP,

F.R.C.S. Eng., Hon. Surgeon, Ancoats Hosp., Manchester.

Price 2s. Post free 2s. 3d.

"THE HURSING RECORD," 11, ADAM STREET, STRAND, W.C.

Contents.

EDITORIAL			•••		•••	I
Annotations						2
WOMEN AND PUBLIC WO						4
MEDICAL MATTERS						5
PRESENT POSITION OF						•
Kingdom						6
THE OPENING DAY						7
SPEAKERS AT THE CONGR	RESS			•••	•••	8
THE NURSING SESSION			•••			IC
THE MATRONS' COUNCIL	MEETI	NG		•••		11
RED CROSS WORK						12
APPOINTMENTS						13
NURSING ECHOES						13
Reflections						16
PREPARATIONS, INVENTIO			•••		•••	17
OUTSIDE THE GATES						17
A BOOK OF THE WEEK				•••
WHAT TO READ; COMIN			•••
CORRESPONDENCE			•••
NOTICES: COMMENTS AND			•••		•••	20

Editorial.

OUR FOREIGN VISITORS.

the past week, of meeting most of the distinguished nurses of other nations present at the Congress, and have been both encouraged and inspired by our intercourse with them. It is a matter for much congratulation that so many of our colleagues from other countries are present on this great occasion, because, as all nurses realize, in a busy professional life it is most difficult to find time for engagements outside one's own work—so difficult, indeed, that even in London the ties of duty are pleaded as an insuperable obstacle to attending the Congress. Those women, therefore, who are so animated by professional feeling that they have made the effort to come many thousands of miles to confer with their colleagues deserve a very warm welcome at our hands.

In our intercourse with the nursing representatives of other nations we have been much impressed by the fact that the same problems are presenting themselves for solution in nursing matters in various countries all the world over, and that the women who are grappling with them, are, quite independently of one another, arriving at the same conclusions. For instance, in Denmark, as with us, the need of the organization of trained nurses is making itself felt, and Mrs. Norrie, the previous page next page