

starved to death in South Africa because of the quality, not the quantity, of food pitched at them by ignorant orderlies, and the filth and demoralising lack of order in the wards, and the horrible waste of good linen and stores was iniquitous. Thousands and thousands of the nation's money have been simply wasted in the wickedest way by the lack of control in the domestic departments of the military hospitals by careful and experienced women. Such mismanagement, all the result of the present "system," could quite easily be reformed—only women must do it.

Comments and Replies.

Miss Salmon, Leeds.—We cannot advise your entering any institution which does not give a three years term of training and certificate.

Certificated Nurse.—We know of no Maternity Hospital which gives free training in midwifery. The course is as a rule for three months, and costs from 20 to 25 guineas. Although you are certificated as a medical and surgical nurse you must remember that as regards midwifery you rank as a pupil, whose work must be constantly supervised. Therefore, it is not only of no commercial value during the short term of training to the special hospital in which you are receiving instruction, but this institution has to maintain and pay a staff of skilled midwives to teach its pupils, as well as to board and lodge them for a period of three months.

C. T. Preston.—We should suggest that you first ascertain if the Private Nursing Institution you mention is under the superintendence of a trained nurse, otherwise you will put yourself in a false position. The lamp you mention can be obtained from W. H. Bailey & Sons, 38, Oxford-street, price 4s. 3d. The new Hotel and Club, for Nurses, St. Andrew's House, Mortimer-street, W., would suit you admirably. Write to Secretary for prospectus.

Miss Ridler, Colchester.—In sending out comforts for the sick give a thought to the "inner man." "Maggi" preparations, to be obtained from Messrs. Cosenza & Co., Wigmore-street, are immensely popular amongst our soldiers at the front. Every man got a tin of "Maggi" consommé at Orange River Station before the battle of Belmont and fought all the better for it. Send tins of consommé and gluten cocoa; both are most excellent.

Private Nurse, London.—Write to the Matron, Nurses Home of Rest, 12, Sussex-square, Brighton. She will give you all particulars. The visitors have the use of an enclosed sea frontage and fine garden. This is delightful for those desiring quiet and rest. The weather is usually beautifully warm and bright in April at Brighton.
