Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll, President of the South London District Nursing Association, has consented to attend the annual meeting of the Association, to be held at the Mansion House on Wednesday, May 9th, at 3.30 p.m.

Miss Sidney Browne, R.R.C. on resigning the reins of office as Matron-in-Chief of Queen Alexandra's Military Nursing Service, has not been allowed to vacate her position without every expression of respect and good will from those with whom she worked. The R.A.M.C. staff of the War Office with whom her official relations have always been most cordial, entertained her at dinner on Thursday in last week, and the new Matron-in-Chief, Miss C. H. Kerr, and the members of Q.A.I.M.N.S. gave a Reception at the Windsor Hotel in her honour on the following Saturday. Friends came from far and near to take this opportunity of expressing their esteem and their regrets at her departure. Among the many guests present were the Countess Roberts, Mrs. Keogh, Mrs. McCulloch, Mrs. St. John, Miss Monk and Miss Cave, Colonel and Mrs. Skinner, Brigade-Surgeon Lieut.-Colonel Harrison, and Colonel and Mrs. O'Keefe, Major and Mrs. Thurston. Many farewell telegrams were received by Miss Browne from those who were unable to attend.

At the recent examination of nurses at St. Bartholomew's Hospital the winner of the Gold Medal, which is awarded to the nurse who heads the list in the final examination, was Miss Bryant. The Prize of Books, awarded to the probationer who heads the list in the examination of first-year probationers, was Miss Appleyard. Both prizes are given by the Clothworkers' Company.

The following nurses have gained the certificate of the hospital: Misses Whitehouse, Mundy, E. R. Moore, Lillingston, Steele, F. Connell and Creed (bracketed equal), Holden, Green, Haswell, Harcourt, Binman and Rogers (bracketed equal), Wade-Grey, Surman, and L. A. Moore.
