THE PASSING BELL.

The unexpected death of Miss Dunn, Matron of the Victoria Hospital, Kingston-on-Thames, has come as a great shock to her many friends. Miss Dunn, who was trained at the Warneford Hospital, Leamington, was present on Thursday, January 9th, at an "At Home" given by Miss Jones, the Matron, and the Nursing Staff at the Military Hospital, Millbank, where she worked for a year before her appointment to Kingston, when she was in the best of spirits, though complaining of slight pain. To the sorrow of all who knew her, she died on Monday last after a brief illness, and was buried on Wednesday. The Matrons' Council, of which Miss Dunn was a member, sent a cross of beautiful Neapolitan violets and other flowers as a mark of its sorrow and respect.
