THE PASSING BELL.

We regret to record the death at Petersham Vicarage last week of Miss Constance A. Newton, who had been in charge of the English hospital at Jaffa since 1885. During the cholera epidemic of 1902-3 the staff of the hospital did much valuable work, and the Governor of Jaffa paid a special visit to the hospital to express to Miss Newton the thanks of the Ottoman Government. Miss Newton's work included Christians, Moslems, and Jews in Palestine, who call her "the beloved mother whom no one can forget."

We also record with regret the death of Miss A. Gardner, as a result of meningitis and abscess on the brain, which occurred last week at Blackburn, where Miss Gardner was formerly a nurse in the workhouse infirmary. An operation was attempted but as the nurse collapsed under chloroform when it was about to be performed, it was not proceeded with. She recovered from the effects of the chloroform, but died later in the day.
