

work has been done, as there has only been one small ward for women. Now a women's ward has been added, which means, of course, increased financial help will be needed. The floors of Korean rooms are formed of stones which are heated from below. These stones are covered with mud and then oiled paper, which is polished with bean oil, and the appearance is very nice and clean. Sometimes, however, the floors become too hot, and, as the Korean sleeps on the floor bad burns may occur, especially in the case of children and babies.

In the evening Miss Christlieb, of Southern India, described her work amongst the women and children. The essence of the missionary's life was, she said, to make friends with the people. There are so many who are friendless.

First, there are those in the baby world.

So many of the mothers in India die, and no one has any idea of bringing up a baby whose mother is dead. And again, as the children grow bigger they need friendship and care. Then there are the child wives. Going to look up an absentee from school, Miss Christlieb found the child crying bitterly, and was told by her mother that she could not come again as her husband had come for her. His father's wife had died, and there was no one to cook and sweep and do the housework for the family, so this child, with no woman friend, had to take up a woman's burden.

Then there are the poor little child widows.

After Miss Christlieb's speech Mr. McAdam Eccles took the chair, and moved the adoption of the annual report, which was carried.

Dr. James Maxwell, jun., then gave a very interesting lecture, illustrated by lantern slides, of hospital work in Formosa. It may not be generally known that most of the camphor of the world comes from this island; but it is not procured without risk, first from malarial fever, and secondly from the savages who live on the hills where the camphor trees grow, and who object to the invasion of their territory, an objection which they demonstrate by cutting off the heads of the invaders if they get the opportunity.

The Tainan Hospital has 160 beds, and at home one of this size would have a nursing staff of Matron, Assistant Matron, 8 Sisters, and 32 nurses. The Tainan Hospital has none, for Mrs. Maxwell is unable to undertake individual nursing as well as the general superintendence and the theatre work. In spite of this many serious operations are performed, and do well though some cases are undoubtedly lost which might be saved by good nursing. The illustration of Mrs. Pomegranate, shown by Dr. Maxwell, is of one of the most earnest workers in the mission, who was first brought into contact with its teaching through the hospital.

The other illustration, also thrown on the screen by Dr. Maxwell in the course of his lecture, shows the way in which the babies are brought to church, a Chinaman carries all his burdens in his market baskets, so it is natural to put the babies there.

The Secretary, Miss H. Y. Richardson, and many willing helpers, are greatly to be congratulated on the good organisation which largely contributed to the success and enjoyment of the day.

Our Guinea Prize.

We have pleasure in announcing that Miss L. M. Griffin, School Nurse, London County Council, 16, South Park Parade, Seven Kings, Essex, has won our Guinea Prize for April.

KEY TO PRIZE PUZZLE.

- No. 1.—Frame Food.
F R—aim food
- No. 2.—Cerebos Salt.
C E R E—bows (of boat) S—awl—T
- No. 3.—"Shell Brand" Polish.
Shell B-ran-D pole—eyes—H.
- No. 4.—Down Bros.' Specialities.
D—owe—N brow—T—hare—S
S—pea—CI—ale—eye—ties

The following competitors have also solved the puzzles correctly: M. Burr, Ebford; R. Rutter, Hayle; L. M. Wilson, Sheffield; S. J. Brown, Eastwood; H. G. Bowers, Nottingham; R. L. Wiseman, Fulham; C. Mackenzie, Greenock; E. M. Banner, Islington; M. A. Taylor, Penge; M. E. Leng, Banbury; A. G. Layton, London; C. Burns, Tain; H. Simpson, Edinburgh; M. Whitworth, Maidstone; M. O'Donoghue, Wicklow; L. A. Castleman, Balham; A. M. Shoesmith, Durham; A. Holding, Mortlake; A. Stone, London; G. A. Fenn, Orford; E. Westcott, Tooting; E. S. Sills, Oakham; F. Hawthorn, Manchester; A. G. Macdonald, Alyth; J. H. Bennet, Edinburgh; C. McCarthy, Wandsworth; I. Bröchner, Lincoln; J. Green, Reading; S. S. Sherring, Liverpool; E. Miller, Greenock; J. Cook, Portland; C. Levy, Manchester; L. Holmes, Belfast; I. C. Smith, Glasgow; T. Moss, London; G. Smart, Cork; A. Kemp, Upper Walmer; V. Long, Chester; C. Dunne, Dublin; L. Holland, Weymouth; E. Sayle, Epsom; A. Lacey, Brighton; K. C. Attwood, Doncaster; M. English, London; A. L. Etheridge, London; E. B. Charlton, Ilkley; E. Macfarlane, London; M. E. Clegg, Liverpool; S. Davey, Norwich; T. A. Morley, Crewe; S. Arthur, Slough; M. Dempster, Sidmouth; I. Ewins, Leeds; M. Cook, E. Malling; F. Robinson, Liverpool; M. Morris, Shrewsbury; E. M. Dickson, Felixstowe; M. de H. Spittal, Loughborough; T. Casey, Dublin; E. Dinnie, Harrow; H. E. Williams, Treharris; H. R. Flint, Birmingham; N. Norris, London; M. C. Lowe, Perth; E. Douglas, Belfast; T. Rose, Aberdeen; F. E. M. Day, Homerton; F. B. Mathews, London; A. Godfrey, Wisbech; M. O. Long, Leicester; M. M. Powell, Aylesbury; K. Murley, Reading; G. L. Waring, London; N. Smith, Dublin; E. Wood, Hampstead; C. Cheshire, Woking; E. M. Lenthall, Sydenham; C. Allen, Newcastle; E. Gibson, Sutton; B. Tait, Brighton; H. Cobb, Attleborough; R. Conway, Chelsea; L. M. Johnston, Leith; C. M. Walker, Stockport; F. Sheppard, Tunbridge Wells; M. Modlin, Brixton; S. Longley, E. Grinstead; M. E. Cooper, Sildon; J. Holmes, Finchley; B. Sheard, Chislehurst; K. Farrer-Baynes, Birkdale; M. Johnston, London; B. Widdop, Wolverhampton; S. Dennis, Cork; M. L. Ford, London; M. C. Wilson, Durham; R. Leigh, Lympstone; A. Nott, Stroud; M. A. Lindsay, Edin-

previous page

next page