PRESENTATIONS.

The Rev. Percy W. Coster, Rector of Kilbride, has been presented by the nursing staff of Dr. Steevens' Hospital, Dublin, with a beautiful silver rose bowl as a token of the esteem and regard in which he was held during his tenure of office as Chaplain.

Last week, in the Lesser Town Hall, Alyth, Provost M'Leish presided at a public meeting summoned to present to Nurse Morrison a tangible recognition of her services on the termination of her engagement. Ex-Bailie Geddes said that the Alyth and Meigle Nursing Association had never done better work over an extended area, was never more popular, and was never in a better financial position than it had been during the years Nurse Morrison had been its personification, and had lived and laboured amongst them. Mrs. Crichton then handed to Nurse Morrison a cheque for £25 in a vanity bag.
