Nursing Echoes.

There was a splendid display of dolls and toys for children, and gifts for adult patients, in hospitals and infirmaries at Christmas-time, at the Highgate Literary and Scientific Institution last week, collected by the Santa Claus Society. These lovely gifts will give many a sick child a happy time. One little lady in a Children's Ward, who is to remain over "Kissum Day," as she aptly calls this great festival, hopes Father Christmas will bring her a bit of looking-glass, as she does so miss her own face. "Unless I sees my face, how am I to be sure that me's me—perhaps Mother Goose has flewed away with me to the moon." As it is a very dear little face, we quite sympathise with this little daughter of Eve who wants to take a peep at it.

At a recent meeting of the Council of the Queen Victoria's Jubilee Institute, it was reported that the Queen had been pleased to appoint Lady Eglinton, Lady Susan Gordon-Gilmour, and Mr. A. H. F. Barbour to be members of the council, thus giving further representation to Scotland, a step rendered necessary owing to the extension of the work of the Scottish branch. The council have received with great regret the resignation from their body of Mrs. Theodore Acland, who was one of the members of the provisional council appointed by Queen Victoria in 1888, and who has been on the council ever since. She for many years rendered valuable service to the institute as hon. secretary. The council approved the appointment of Miss A. C. Lowe to the secretaryship of the Institute, rendered vacant by the recent resignation of Miss A. Martin Leake. Affiliation was granted to nursing associations at Barnsley, Yorkshire; Pemberton, Lancashire; Clydach, Glamorgan-shire; Caythorpe, Lincolnshire; and Pease-down, Somerset.

A very pleasant "At Home" was given at the Hammersmith Town Hall on Monday afternoon, by Miss Curtis, the Superintendent, who received the guests, and the Nurses of the Hammersmith and Fulham District Nursing Association. A sumptuous tea was served at little tables, and a varied programme of songs, piano and violin solos, recitations, was exceptionally excellent. Halfway through this pro-
