ALBERT MEDAL FOR A NURSE.

The King, as announced in the London Gazette, has been pleased to approve of the Albert Medal of the Second Class being awarded to Nurse Hilda Elizabeth Wolsey, in recognition of her gallantry in saving the life of a patient at the Hanwell Asylum, as detailed below:—

Nurse Wolsey followed a female patient, who ran for 60 or 70 feet along a narrow guttering at the edge of a roof, over the wire covering of the fire escape 25 feet from the ground, making her way by leaning with one hand against the sloping roof, and, reaching the patient, held her, at great personal risk, until ropes and ladders were procured and she was lowered to safety.
