LADY MINTO'S INDIAN NURSING ASSOCIATION.

The following appointments to the position of Sister have been made in Lady Minto's Nursing Association:—

Miss Gertrude Beckett, trained at the Royal Southern Hospital, Liverpool. She has had experience of private nursing on the staff of the same hospital and elsewhere, and has been Sister at the Royal Southern Hospital, and at the Northern Hospital for Women and Children, Manchester.

Miss Dora M. Dear, trained at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London. She has had experience of private nursing on the staff of the same hospital, and is a certified midwife.

Miss Elizabeth Graham Moore, trained at the Lambeth Infirmary, S.E. She has had experience of private nursing, also of infectious nursing at the Park Hospital, Hither Green, under the Metropolitan Asylums Board. She is a certified midwife and certificated masseuse.

Miss Elizabeth Burnett, trained at the Royal Infirmary, Liverpool. She has been Assistant Superintendent at the Queen's Nurses Institute, Cardiff, and Superintendent of the Queen's Nurses Home, Stockport. She is a certified midwife.

Miss Mary Gertrude Bowers, trained at the Great Northern Central Hospital, Holloway Road, N. She has had experience of private nursing, and has been Ward Sister, Theatre Sister, and Out-patient Sister at St. Mark's Hospital, City Road, E.C. She is a certified midwife.

Miss Butler has resigned the position of Lady Superintendent of Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital, Dublin, greatly to the regret of her many friends. Miss Hughes, formerly Matron of Portrane Asylum, has been appointed for temporary duty.

NURSING ECHOES.

GENERAL NEWS.

The first Nursing Conference to be held in the Midlands is now being organized by the National Council of Trained Nurses of Great Britain and Ireland. Miss E. M. Musson, as President of the General Hospital Birmingham Nurses' League—the hostess society—is to be President of the Conference, and is inviting the support of Matrons and others interested in Nursing and Social Service. It is probable the Conference will be held in the second week of June. All information concerning the organization and work of the National Council of Trained Nurses, which is affiliated to the International Council, can be procured from Miss B. Cutler, Hon. Secretary, N.C.T.N., 431, Oxford Street, London, W. It stands for co-operation of trained nurses for the benefit of the community and the Nursing Profession.

A most successful social evening of the Nurses' Choral and Social League in the form of a fancy dress dance was held on the evening of January 29th at 5, Addison Road, Kensington, W., which had been kindly lent for the purpose. Dancing took place in a beautiful room specially built as a ballroom, there was an excellent string band, and the scene was most animated. Great interest had been taken in the event, and over 250 tickets had been sold. The guests were received by Mrs. Carreg McCowan, the President, assisted by Miss Barton, Vice-President, and Miss Violet Lewis, Hon. Sec. By far the greater majority came in fancy dress, there was a small sprinkling in nurses' uniform, and also some in evening dress. The Matrons had been allowed to invite men, and there was quite a respectable number of these, but nurses seemed to thoroughly enjoy dancing with each other. A great deal of taste had been expended on the fancy dresses, and the judges had a very difficult task to award the prizes. The cost of each dress had been limited to 2s. 6d.

At about ten o'clock all the competing members of the League had first to go out into the corridor, and then come in singly and parade round. Three gentlemen had been chosen as judges. After an interval, all present who were in fancy dress were allowed to join the procession. After much anxious deliberation, it was announced that the first prize for members of the League had been awarded to Sister Rowlands, from Hammersmith Infirmary, as "A Turkish Lady"; the second, to Sister Styles, as Parcels Post.
