Sir Courtauld Thomson has left London for Boulogne, to take up his duties as Commissioner in France to the British Red Cross Society and the Order of St. John. Accompanied by the members of his staff, he had a good send-off at Victoria Station by various officials from the Joint Committee of the two societies.

Owing to the good offices of M. Paul Cambon, the French Ambassador, the London Branch of the French Red Cross Society has been re-organized under the presidency of Vicomtesse de la Panouse. In future the three Red Cross Societies in France will be represented in London only by this branch, the headquarters of which is at 25, Knightsbridge, S.W.
