The conditions of labour of some Irish Dispensary Midwives seem to call for investigation and redress. The salary given is £20 per annum with an allowance of 5s. for every case attended and liberty to attend paying cases, but this permission cannot always be used owing to want of time. Further it appears that if the Medical Officer has too much work of his own on hand to permit of his undertaking the midwife's in her absence she cannot have a holiday. We know of one who has been over six years at her post, and has never had a day's holiday, whose application for three weeks' leave is refused on the ground that "the Guardians will not pay for a substitute during your absence, and therefore, decline to grant your application."
