THE CARE OF THE WOUNDED.

The King and Queen have recently visited the sick and wounded soldiers at the Duchess of Connaught's Canadian Red Cross Hospital at Cliveden, and those who have returned from the front at the Ascot Military Hospital.

The King spoke to all the worst cases, and was specially interested in the "tent ward" where patients with very severe septic wounds are treated in the open air. Convalescent patients on one side, and nurses and members of the R.A.M.C. on the other lined the central avenue, and were inspected by His Majesty before leaving.

The Committee of the London units of the Scottish Women's Hospitals (N.U.W.S.S.) are issuing invitations for a private view of their Travelling X Ray Motor Ambulance about to proceed to the Front, to be held in the grounds of Bedford College, Regent's Park, by courtesy of the Principal, on Thursday, July 29th, from 4.30-8 p.m., and on Friday, July 30th, from
