Nursing Service.

Members of the Registered Nurses' Society, 431, Oxford Street, London, W. 1, will be glad to know that amongst the recipients of the Royal Red Cross (second class) the name of Sister K. E. Barling appears. Sister Barling joined the Territorial Force Nursing Service before the war, and was called up for duty at the First London General Hospital, Camberwell, when the nursing staff was mobilized on the declaration of hostilities. A similar honour was conferred on Sister Lusted.

Another member of the staff, Sister MacEwen, who was one of those recently "mentioned" for valuable services, has been Sister-in-Charge at Cawston House Hospital, near Rugby. To both Sisters this Journal, as the official organ of their Society, offers hearty congratulations.
