The work is a mine of wealth for those genuinely interested in Nursing Education, and should be in the possession of, and deeply prized by, all those who aspire to teach the Science and Art of Nursing. Such a guide is an urgent need in this country, where the nursing curriculum, even in our leading schools, is still elementary, and theoretically deficient in many particulars, owing to lack of co-ordinated standards, and time to study.

The "Standard Curriculum for Schools of Nursing" is published by the Waverley Press, Baltimore, U.S.A., and copies may be secured from Miss Effie Taylor, Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Maryland, U.S.A., upon receipt of one dollar for cloth covered, and 80 cents for paper covered copies.

ETHEL G. FENWICK,
Hon. Member,

National League of Nursing Education.

FOR WHICH MANY THANKS.

Miss Rose Conway writes to the Sub-Editor: "I would so very much like to do something in remembrance of Mrs. Fenwick's 40 years of splendid service to nursing and nurses. Do you think she will allow me to pay for one year's B.J.N. to be sent to one of Princess Victoria's Rest Clubs for Nurses in France? I enclose cheque to cover cost of JOURNAL and postage."
