STANDS NOT TO BE MISSED AT THE EXHIBITION.

MESSRS. COLEMAN & CO., LTD.

STANDS 1, 2.

The first stands on the left on passing through the entrance are those of Messrs. Coleman & Co., Ltd., Wincarnis Works, Norwich, contractors to the Royal Army Medical Corps and His Majesty's Forces. Wincarnis is well known to nurses, as it is frequently prescribed in convalescence and in cases of impaired vitality. It is composed of choice red wine, extract of meat, and extract of malt in an easily assimilable form.

THE SURGICAL MANUFACTURING CO.

STANDS 5 AND 6.

Those who are concerned with the furnishing of hospitals, nursing homes and other kindred institutions, should make a point of visiting the establishment of the Surgical Manufacturing Co., 83-85, Mortimer Street, London, W. 1, where they will be able to procure everything to meet their requirements. The Invalid Furniture supplied by this firm is both well made and moderate in price. A special feature is made of comfortable chairs, both wheel chairs and arm-chairs, the "Regent" Rest Chair, which will fold up when not in use and costs only £1 12s. 6d., being specially worthy of note.

A great advantage in dealing with this firm is that requirements for invalids can be hired, and if approved can be purchased during the first month at the list price, less any amounts paid in advance for hire. Private nurses therefore need feel no diffidence in advising patients to obtain such necessaries as they require, as they can be hired for a very moderate sum and subsequently purchased if desired when their utility has been tested.

THE MEDICAL SUPPLY ASSOCIATION.

STAND 8.

The above company (167-173, Gray's Inn Road) are exhibiting nursing requisites and other specialities.

"THE BRITISH JOURNAL OF NURSING."

STAND 20.

THE BRITISH JOURNAL OF NURSING (published by the Nursing Press, Ltd., 431, Oxford Street, London, W. 1) will be on sale, and an early visit to Stand 20 is advised to those who wish to obtain our Special Spring Number, published in connection with the Exhibition, for the demand for the Journal is usually great on such occasions, and the issue, which will contain many interesting features, including the most recent information in regard to the Nurses' Registration Bill, is likely to be quickly sold out. "A History of Nursing," by Miss M. A. Nutting, R.N., and Miss L. L. Dock, R.N., will be on view, and on order, besides other professional literature.

MESSRS. KEEN, ROBINSON & CO.

STAND 22.

Robinson's "Patent" Barley, supplied by Messrs. Keen, Robinson & Co., Ltd., is a valuable preparation which should be known to all who are concerned in the care of infants and invalids. In regard to infants, human milk is their birth-right, and should never be denied them except under medical advice. But, in cases where a mother is unable to suckle her infant, cow's milk, sweetened and diluted with barley water made with Robinson's "Patent" Barley according to formulæ supplied, is an excellent substitute. The effect of the barley water is to prevent the formation of large curds in the child's stomach, a result if undiluted cow's milk is used. It can also with advantage be added to condensed milk and dried milk, instead of plain water. Barley water, when prescribed in cases of illness, can also be prepared with advantage from Robinson's "Patent" Barley.

BOVRIL, LTD.

STAND 24.

Stand 24 has been secured by Bovril, Ltd., of 152-166, Old Street, London, E.C. Many district nurses and midwives who both carry this useful and stimulating beverage in their district bags for use as occasion requires, and also use it themselves, will be glad of an opportunity of hearing the latest details in regard to it, as well as Hospital Matrons and private nurses.

BOOTS, LTD.

STAND 27.

This noted firm, of which Sir Jesse Boot is the managing director, and which has its headquarters in Station Street, Nottingham, has the knack of presenting goods, fresh and sound in quality, under most attractive guise. The reliability of its dispensing service is increasingly realized, and visitors to the exhibition should make a point of acquainting themselves with the valuable special features of this service.

GENATOSAN, LTD.

STANDS 31, 32 and 33.

Genatosan, Ltd. (the British purchasers) of the Sanatogen Co., of which the Viscountess Rhondda is Chairman, and the Headquarters of which are at 12, Chenies Street, W.C. 1, will exhibit their specialities at Stand 31. It will be remembered how this firm successfully replaced Sanatogen (of German origin) with a British product which they named "Genatosan," and also have put on the market a Formamint Tablet which, in the recent influenza epidemic, has been prescribed with excellent results, both as a preventive and in cases of influenzal catarrh.

VIROL, LTD.
