

What we all Desire

PEACE, prosperity and plenty—these are the aspirations of every one of us to-day.

Peace in the home—a reasonable degree of comfort and leisure, with freedom from domestic labour worries; prosperity in the industrial world—increased output, with better living and working conditions for the men and women employed; and plenty in field, farm and garden—a land where rationing and soaring food prices are nothing but an evil dream.

And the way to that great goal?

One signpost pointing along it is inscribed "Scientific Coal Conservation"—that is, the distillation of raw coal in the country's gas-works.

The use of gas means—in the home, increased comfort, convenience and fuel economy, with the abolition of much of the most unpleasant domestic drudgery; in the industrial world, the introduction of improved machinery, a higher rate and quality of output per hand employed, less labour, greater cleanliness, better hygienic conditions—and a never failing supply of those constituents of coal, lost when it is burned in its crude form, which are essential to industry; and on the land, record harvests largely brought about by the more general use of sulphate of ammonia, the valuable fertiliser recovered in the process of gas making.

Therefore, for the sake of peace, prosperity and plenty—and to lessen the drain on our fast diminishing coal reserves—use gas wherever possible and urge others to follow your example.
