THE MOTHERCRAFT TRAINING SOCIETY.

The Annual Meeting of the Mothercraft Training Society was held at 29, Trebovir Road, on Monday, June 2nd, at 3.30 p.m., H.R.H. the Duchess of York graciously presiding.

Lady Galway, the Chairman of the Executive Committee, in proposing the adoption of the Annual Report, spoke of the aims of the Society and of the steady growth of the work, which had for some time past outgrown its present quarters. A beautiful old-world house, Cromwell House at Highgate, had been bought, but would need extensive alterations and additions to fit it for the Society's work, and it was estimated that about £13,000 would have to be spent. A Special Building Fund had been started, to which past students had contributed the splendid sum of £175, and donations from members of the Committee and from a large circle of friends had already brought in the first £1,000, but the remainder had yet to be collected.

Dr. Jewesbury, the Hon. Medical Director, spoke of the large increase in the number of out-patient attendances — 4,767 as compared with 3,650 in 1923—these alone showed how greatly needed the larger premises were. The doctor also referred to the fact that there had only been two deaths during the year; which, considering the condition in which babies were so often admitted, was most fortunate.

HER ROYAL HIGHNESS THE DUCHESS OF YORK. President, Women's Section, British Empire Exhibition.

Many women's organisations are holding conferences during the course of the Exhibition—our National Council of Women organised a series from June 16th to 21st, and the College of Nursing, Ltd., from September 10th to 17th.

In the House of Commons, on June 25th, Sir T. Bramsdon asked the Home Secretary what is the present position of the Departmental Committee which he has decided to set up to inquire into the question of assaults on girls; and whether he is in a position to state who the members of that Departmental Committee will be.

Mr. Henderson replied that he regretted the delay in setting up this Committee, which has been largely due to a difficulty in connection with the appointment of a chairman. He now hopes to be in a position to proceed with the appointment very shortly.
