OBITUARY.

Miss Mildred Heather-Bigg, R.R.C.

Just as we are sending our MS. to press, the news reaches us of the death of Miss Heather-Bigg, R.R.C., a former Vice-Chairman of the Association. In another part of the Journal appears an appreciation from the pen brought to its council table clear vision and a fine intellect, yet we have cause for thankfulness that, for a season Miss Heather-Bigg took a share in the making of the destinies of the Association. On the traditions of its Chair her name spreads the lustre of Truth and of all that in her was personified in "good, wise, just and perfect shape."

At the Memorial Service the Corporation was represented by Miss A. S. Marshall, F.B.C.N., Matron of the London Temperance Hospital; a floral tribute was sent from the Members.

INVITATION.

Miss Cattell will be "At Home" to her friends and to Members of the Association on Thursday, July 12th, from 4 to 6 p.m. She hopes that the Members will take this intimation as an invitation to be present and she also asks of one who knew her intimately and whose ideals and aspirations for the Profession of Nursing she shared. But we would offer, in our Official Organ, a small tribute from the Association to her memory. We are glad that in it she held office and we believe that it must be the stronger to accomplish its tasks in the future because to it there flowed some of the idealism, courage, aspiration, justice and other qualities which Miss Heather-Bigg had in such large measure, qualities made the more pregnant by her wonderful natural sense for truth, for seeing things as they are. Her actions and her words were ever in accord. There are those who hold that, when a personality (possessed of truly great qualities of spirit, soul and mind) and some world activity or movement "speak one another in passing," the connection is, in a spiritual sense, never lost but works on in the future; and so, while we mourn the loss of one who filled a great office greatly in our Association, who

us to inform the Members that, if any of them have visitors with them, she will be delighted if those will come also. This, we anticipate, will be the last social gathering at the Club at least until the end of August and we hope to meet many friends when we partake of Miss Cattell's hospitality on 12th July. We look forward to a very pleasant gathering.

MARRIAGE.

We have received intimation of the wedding of Miss Marianne Lillias Anderson to Brigadier-General Pentland Shekleton, C.B., C.M.G. We offer to them the congratulations and good wishes of the Association. Miss Anderson joined the Association in 1921.

ISABEL MACDONALD,
Secretary to the Corporation.
