

Miss M. L. Landale, 1st prize, Special Subjects; 1st prize Senior General Nursing; 1st prize equal, Surgical Nursing and Instruments.

Miss M. P. Middleton, 2nd prize, Gynæcology.

Miss M. S. Kydd, 1st prize, Gynæcology.

Miss G. G. Steele, 2nd prize equal, Gynæcology.

Miss W. Fleming, 2nd prize equal, Gynæcology; 1st prize equal, Surgical Nursing and Instruments.

Miss M. L. King, 1st prize, Senior General Nursing.

Miss E. M. Littlewood, 1st prize, Senior General Nursing.

Miss M. A. Johnston, 1st prize, Senior General Nursing.

Miss M. J. K. Burns, 1st prize, Senior General Nursing.

Miss J. G. McPherson, 1st prize equal, Junior General Nursing.

Miss R. J. Thomson, 1st prize equal, Junior General Nursing.

Miss M. A. Robertson, 1st prize, Junior General Nursing.

Miss S. Logan, 1st prize, Junior General Nursing.

Miss A. R. Maclaurin, 1st prize, Physiology; 1st prize, Junior General Nursing.

Miss S. Walton, 1st prize, Junior General Nursing.

Miss J. M. Hughes, 1st prize, Junior General Nursing; 1st prize, Hygiene.

Miss B. M. Milligan, 1st prize, Hygiene; 1st prize equal, Physiology; 1st prize, Junior General Nursing.

Miss E. A. Robertson, 1st prize, Hygiene.

Miss M. H. Ingram, 1st prize equal, Physiology.

Miss M. N. Brown, 1st prize equal, Physiology.

Miss E. D. T. Frossard, 1st prize equal, Physiology; 1st prize, Hygiene.

Miss L. Stickney, "Affleck" Special Prize for Medical Nursing.

Miss J. E. Salzmann, "Annie Warren Gill" Memorial Prize for Dietetics—Theory and Practice.

Miss L. Stickney, Proxime Accessit for "Affleck" Medal.

Miss C. P. Warnes, "Affleck" Medal.

APPOINTMENTS.

ASSISTANT MATRONS.

Warren Road Emergency Hospital, Guildford.—Miss E. Braine-Hartnell, S.R.N., S.C.M., has been appointed Assistant Matron. She was trained at the Radcliffe Infirmary, Oxford, and has been Sister Tutor at the Maternity Nursing Association, London; Departmental Maternity and Sister Tutor at St. James' Hospital, Balham; Matron at the Annie McCall Maternity Hospital, Clapham; and Matron at the Emergency Maternity Hospital, Old Surrey Hall, East Grinstead. Miss Braine-Hartnell holds the Midwife-Teacher's Certificate.

Papworth Village Settlement, Cambridge.—Miss Mary G. Reid, R.G.N., has been appointed Assistant Matron. She was trained at the Deaconess Hospital, Edinburgh, and has been Staff Nurse at the London School of Tropical Medicine; Sister at the Blantyre Mission Hospital, Nyasaland; Ward Sister at the Women's Hospital, Glasgow; Sister at the Bridge of Weir Sanatorium; and Ward Sister at the Bruntsfield Hospital, Edinburgh.

SISTER TUTOR.

Staincliffe County Hospital, Dewsbury.—Miss I. G. Hammett, S.R.N., R.F.N., S.C.M., has been appointed Sister Tutor. She was trained at the Royal Albert Hospital, Devonport; at the Knightswood Hospital, Glasgow; and at the Royal Maternity Hospital, Glasgow. Miss Hammett has been Ward Sister at the Central Hospital, Plymouth; Ward Sister and Home Sister at the Heathfield Hospital, Ayr; Ward Sister at the North Eastern Hospital, N.; and Assistant Sister Tutor at the Highgate Hospital, London, N. She holds the Sister Tutor Certificate of Battersea Polytechnic.

SISTER TUTOR AND CLINIC SISTER.

Leigh Infirmary, Lanes.—Miss Margaret Picken, R.G.N., S.C.M., has been appointed Sister Tutor and Clinic Sister. She was trained at the Western Infirmary, Glasgow, where she was later Ward, Theatre and Out-Patient Sister, and at the Royal Hospital for Women, Glasgow. Miss Picken has also been Theatre Sister at the Gravesend and North Kent Hospital, Gravesend; Medical Ward Sister at the Royal Infirmary, Bradford; and Night Sister at the Queen Victoria Hospital, Morecambe.

THE NURSING PROFESSION LOSES A TRUE FRIEND.

The Nursing Profession sincerely mourns the loss of a very true friend by the death on May 9th of Mr. Joseph J. Crosfield, of Embley Park, Hants, whose funeral took place on May 11th. The funeral service, held in St. Margaret's Church, East Wellow, was followed by interment in the churchyard, which is the resting-place of Florence Nightingale, and which has become a place of pilgrimage for nurses from all over the world. Great simplicity marked the service, which was attended by many devoted friends and by representatives of many institutions which owed so much to this most sympathetic philanthropist. A list of the benefactions of the late Mr. Crosfield, including hospitals, nursing institutions, health centres and public institutions would fill a column. Never was public duty more earnestly performed or with greater modesty than that which inspired this generous friend of his fellow men, whose wealth was spent lavishly for the benefit of those in need; he now rests in a sacred spot of exquisite sylvan beauty close to the historic church of St. Margaret's—of 900 years foundation, the restoration of which owes so much to his devotion, and which contains the organ, a gift in memory of his younger son, Lieutenant Guy Crosfield, who gave his life for his country during the last war. A wealth of lovely flowers placed on the grave from devoted friends included a golden basket containing gold and purple blossoms, symbolising future glory, from the National Council of Nurses of Great Britain—inscribed with an expression of "Affectionate Gratitude."

We asked permission that the tribute from the National Council of Nurses might be placed on the grave of its kind friend on the following Sunday. From Mrs. Crosfield we have received the following letter:—

"Dear Mrs. Bedford Fenwick,

"Owing to absence from home I have missed seeing the lovely basket of flowers that you and the National Council of Nurses so very kindly sent to be put upon my dear husband's grave.

"This was duly carried out, because my son, Captain Crosfield, was at Embley Park when it arrived, and he has written telling me of it and has described how perfectly exquisite it was. I do so thank you and the Council for your beautiful thought and for such a lovely tribute. With very kind remembrances,

"Yours sincerely,

"LILIAN CROSFIELD."

The late Mr. Crosfield acquired Embley Park, near Romsey, a former home of Florence Nightingale, some 15 years ago, and its perfect restoration, exquisite furnishing, in which the Nightingale tradition was sacredly preserved, and the perfection of its surroundings has made this beautiful house and grounds one of the show-places of England.

Be it remembered that Mr. Crosfield was one of the great horticulturists in this land of gardens, and the gardens at Embley are recognised as of superlative beauty. Azaleas, rhododendrons, magnolias, heaths, roses and flowering shrubs grew to perfection, and much attention was paid to coloured grouping.

He went in deeply for hybridization and had many successes and won many awards, sharing this exquisite home and its surroundings with others, and that is how we nurses came into touch with Mr. and Mrs. Crosfield, linked together by admiration for Florence Nightingale. Our first visit to Embley Park was paid many years ago, but it was in the year 1932 that, during "Nightingale Week," organised through our National Council of Nurses of Great Britain, when, in Conference in London to con-

previous page

next page