BUCKLAND'S BED BATH.—This exceedingly useful and thoroughly antiseptic article, the invention of Nurse Buckland, M.R.B.N.A., is made in Minton china, and sold wholesale and retail by Messrs. W. H. Bailey and Son, 38, Oxford Street, W. The great advantage of this bath is that it can also be used as a "slipper," and being lightly made, yet particularly strong, is easy and convenient to use, and an improvement on the ordinary and bulky earthenware ones.

We have had the one sent to us put to a thorough practical test, and have nothing but praise for it. There are no acute angles to hurt the patient, and no crevices for uncleanly accumulations as in the Tin baths, whilst the shape is conducive to the comfort of the patient and convenience of the nurse. They are retailed at 10s. 6d. each, a reduction in this price being made to Nurses, Medical Men, Hospitals, and other Institutions. We congratulate Nurse Buckland on her ingenuity and enterprise, and give hearty praise to Messrs. Bailey and Son for producing so richly-made and finished an article.

MALT COFFEE (Malt Coffee Co., Monument Buildings, London, E.C.), is a decided improvement on coffee as an invigorating, nourishing, and digestive food. This new drink will be found valuable and acceptable to many, since, on the one hand, it retains all the refreshing and stimulating properties of the coffee, while on the other, the well-known digestive and strengthening qualities of the malt are ingenuously retained and combined during the process of its manufacture. Those who prefer coffee for their morning meal will find in this a very substantial foundation on which to base their day; and the after-dinner cup of "Café-Noir," if made from this, will undoubtedly aid digestion considerably. Moreover this firm are giving everyone a very fair opportunity of testing their goods, as they offer to send samples of this coffee, post free, to anyone who will write for them.

Was ever a time as favoured as the present, when every day outdoes its predecessor in its record of new inventions? Nor are two-thirds of these inventions impossible luxuries for the majority. In saying this we have in our "mind's eye," as it were, that decidedly novel and comfortable article, a braided wire pillow, which was originated and perfected by Dr. Henry Weston, to whom we are
