

patient can be relieved of a tooth without bleeding or prostration following the operation. This is arrived at by an electric battery, of which the patient grasps the positive electrode in the right hand, and the negative in the left, a current is passed through, gently increasing for a few seconds, during which the tooth is painlessly withdrawn. The inventor holds many testimonials as to its efficiency.

THE various disinfectant manufacturers are, during the cholera epidemic, put to considerable stress to supply the sudden and almost unprecedented demands made upon them. It may interest our readers to learn that Jeye's Sanitary Compounds Company, Limited, have received instructions to ship to Hamburg immediately, no less than 38,000 gallons of Jeye's Fluid, and 35 tons of Jeye's Sanitary Powder; and that orders for 44,000 gallons of Jeye's Fluid have come in from other cholera infected districts.

MEANWHILE the Sanitas Company, Limited, are equally busy supplying a large number of various Local Boards and Authorities throughout the United Kingdom, and Messrs. Condy and Mitchell, the manufacturers of Condy's Fluid, have quite as much as they can do to cope with sudden requirements.

Fresh Pages.

Illustrated Lectures on Nursing and Hygiene. By R. Lawton Roberts, M.D., D.P.H., Etc. (H. L. Lewis, 136, Gower Street, W.C.) Two Shillings and Sixpence. We are very pleased to note that this excellent work, revised to date, has reached still another edition. It is worthy of the highest possible commendation, and is a book which every Nurse and everyone connected with or interested in nursing should possess.

Plain Directions on Cookery. Parts I. and II. By Alice Massingham. (Wells, Gardner, Darton & Co., 2, Paternoster Buildings, E.C.) Price Threepence each. The Authoress, who evidently knows what she is writing about, has produced two very useful booklets on a very useful subject. Part I. deals with "Saucepans and Stock," "Pot au Feu," "Hashes and Minces," "Fish, Frying, and Dripping," "The best way of using Tinned Provisions," "Food and its adjuncts," "Vegetables and Gravy," "More about Vegetables," "Réchauffés," "Can you think of a Pudding for today." Part II. consists of "The Breakfast Table," "A Cup of Coffee," "Cakes and Tea Cakes," "Jams and Jellies," "Fruit Syrups," "What shall we have for Luncheon?" "What shall we eat this Hot Weather?" "Savoury Second Courses," "A little talk about Jane," "Soups." This little book should be in the hands of all those who have to do with cookery.
