

Commissions for Nurses in Q.A.R.A.N.C.

(Queen Alexandra's Royal Army Nursing Corps)

Service in the Q.A.R.A.N.C. opens up an attractive career to accepted applicants for commissions in the British Army. They must be British subjects of British parentage, medically fit, and on the General Register of the General Nursing Council. There are also vacancies for State Registered Nurses with special qualifications, e.g., S.C.M., T.A., R.M.N.

SHORT SERVICE COMMISSIONS

Short service commission will be granted for a period of 4 years extendable to 6. After the satisfactory completion of this period, a gratuity is granted at the rate of £65 for each full year of service. During this time the candidate may be considered for regular commissions.

Applications can be made from civilian sources or by officers who have been released.

Applicants must be single, or widows without dependents, age 35 or under. Consideration is given in special cases up to the age of 40 years. Selected applicants are commissioned in the rank of subaltern (sister) and are eligible for promotion.

Of what nature is that rash?

Rashes which are caused by external irritants—napkin rashes in the young, for example, or urine rashes in the old—are neither the least important nor the least obstinate of skin affections. They call both for immediate soothing and for prolonged protection against the risks of secondary infection.

'Dettol' Ointment, softening, cooling and sedative, brings relief from burning and irritation. And because it embodies the active germicidal principle of 'Dettol' antiseptic, it is remarkably helpful in clearing up skin disorders for which an antiseptic yet emollient dressing is indicated.
